NAZI PLOT TO SEIZE U. S. TOLD

Chicago Newspaper Says
20,000 Pro-Hitlerites To Seek Control

FASCISM IS SPREADING

Leaders Warn of Fighting and Bloodshed

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Sen. William E. Borah, R., Ida., former chairman of the foreign relations committee, today proposed a congressional investigation into Nazi activities in the United States.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—(UP)—The Daily Times said in a copyrighted article today that it had completed an undercover investigation which revealed an army of at least 20,000 American Nazis preparing to seize control of the United States. "A relatively small but rapidly growing army is preparing for the American counterpart of 'Der Tag'," the Times said.

Times investigators estimated American Nazi membership at 20,000. An aggressive campaign "is fast winning new members and new affiliated German societies," they reported.

Three reporters working the investigation in all parts of the nation. James J. Metcalfe, former agent of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, joined the Deutscher Volksbund in Chicago, under another name; his brother, John, joined the Amerikadeutscher Bund in New York; William Mueller maintained contact with them and investigated from the outside.

An article under Mueller's signature said:

"The Times investigators found the German brand of Fascism spreading x x x throughout the nation. Leaders of the movement say they will seize control of the United States, but not until 'the communists' revolution starts.'"

"The organization is an integral part of the Hitler movement in Germany. Leaders are in frequent contact with the movement."

Gunman Seized in Speeding Car

IN A story-book 60-mile-an-hour ride, a rookie policeman, Clellan E. Andrews, of Elyria, O., disarmed a gunman who had shot a fellow officer and had abducted him following the officer's attempt to arrest him as a suspicious character. Two guns were pointed at Andrews, forced to drive the gunman's car, when he overpowered the gunman, who is believed to be the same man who earlier held up a bank at Woodville, O. The heroic officer and the captured gunman are shown above.

MAYOR CHARGED WITH TRYING TO BLOCK STRIKERS

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Testimony connecting Mayor Daniel J. Shields of Johnstown with alleged strike breaking activities at the Bethlehem Steel Corp., Cambria plant was on the labor board's records today as the hearing on charges of unfair labor practices went into its second day.

Shields' name was brought into the case by John W. Zeman, a member of Bethlehem's employe representation plan, the first witness called when the hearing opened in nearby Franklin borough yesterday before Trial Examiner Frank Bloom. He took the stand again today.

Despite objections from H. A. Moore, head of Bethlehem counsel, Zeman was permitted to testify how Shields allegedly appeared on the picket line during the strike against Bethlehem's huge Cambria plant last June, brushed aside pickets and patted non-strikers on the back as they entered the struck plant.

Moore's protest that Shields had no connection with the steel firm was overruled when M. I. Rose, NLRB attorney, told Examiner Bloom that "we intend to show a connection between this testimony and the company."

NEW YORK CHILD BRIDE, 12, MOTHER OF 9-POUND GIRL

WATERTOWN, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Leona Backus, 12-year-old child bride, is the mother of a nine-pound daughter, born Sept. 5, her parents announced today.

The baby was born at the state institution for women at Hudson, where the young bride was confined after her real age was discovered by authorities.

Stanley S. Backus, the 18-year-old father, wept when officials said he could not see his daughter. He said his wife wanted him to name the baby and he had selected "Edith Genieveve".

The young mother will be 13 Sept. 22.

Announcement of the birth was made by the mother's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Roshia.

The condition of the young mother was reported as good.

Backus sought his wife's release. He said he wanted his family back where he could provide a home for them.

The child bride was committed to the institution by Judge Harold Porter last Spring after complaints had been made about the marriage.

BARBER SHOTS ELOPERS, CUTS HIS OWN THROAT

WINK, Tex., Sept. 9.—(UP)—V. C. Newchurch opposed the marriage of his daughter Emily, 17, to a 45-year-old cripple and he waited a week for them to return from their honeymoon, his rage increasing by the day.

They returned yesterday. A short time later the bridegroom, Elmer L. Crouse, was found dead and the girl near death with a bullet wound above the heart. The father was at his barber shop, nearby, his throat cut by a razor.

There were no witnesses to the shootings, which occurred at the Newchurch home, but Bob Lewis, a patron at Newchurch's barber shop, said the father told him Saturday night he was going to kill Crouse when he came back.

Newchurch and the girl were in a critical condition today. The father, who is 59, reared the family of four girls after their mother died several years ago. Emily and Crouse eloped last Thursday.

FARMERS PAYING 15-20 CENTS FOR CORN CUTTERS

Approximately 20 men were assigned to corncutting jobs Wednesday by the National Re-employment service. A similar number was expected to be assigned Thursday.

Employees of the service said that the prevailing wage for corn cutters ranges from 15 to 20 cents a shock. They said no difficulty had been experienced in obtaining workers at these prices, but farmers offering below 15 cents were having difficulty hiring cutters.

FEUD CONTINUES

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Gov. Robert E. Quinn, continuing his war with race track executive and Publisher Walter E. O'Hara, declared today he would "drive him out of Rhode Island."

DIKOR FOUND GUILTY

Me., Sept. 9.—(UP)—A jury found guilty of driving when intoxicated on Route 23, Sept. 4, in H. O. Eveland's justice of peace court, Wednesday. He was fined $100 and costs. He was committed to the county jail when he failed to pay.

Woman and Child Injured In Two Traffic Accidents

MRS. E. HOWARD STRUCK BY CAR IN HIGH STREET

Auto of Gus Valentine Hits Child Running Across Street

GIRL'S SKULL FRACTURED

Former Local Resident On Way to Circleville

A former Circleville woman and an automobile driven by a Pickaway county man figured in two near-tragedies in Columbus traffic Wednesday evening and Thursday morning.

Mrs. Elliott Howard, daughter of Mrs. John Drum, W. Mound street, is in Mt. Carmel hospital after being struck by an automobile while she was attempting to board a southbound Valley Public Service bus a few minutes after 7 a. m. Thursday. Columbus police reported that she stepped from the path of one automobile in the way of another. The name of the driver was not learned.

She was coming to Circleville to her work in the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co. office when she was hit.

Vertebra Cracked
Mrs. Howard, the former Mary Drum, has a cut arm, bruises and a cracked vertebra. The severity of the back injury had not been determined Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard live at 1289 S. 4th street, Columbus.

Two-year-old Naomi Hanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Hanson, 253 Benfield avenue, Columbus, was reported in critical condition Thursday afternoon after being struck by the automobile driven by Gus D. Valentine, 30, of Circleville R. F. D. 5, Wednesday evening.

The little girl is the youngest of nine children.

She received a fracture of the skull, broken leg and arm, and internal injuries when she jumped from her father's parked car while an older sister, Wanda, 12, was trying to keep two brothers, Glenn, 5, and Daniel, 6, inside the machine. The little girl was crossing the highway in front of 1946 S. High street when the accident happened.

The child was taken to Mercy hospital.

LANCASTER VOTES ON $225,000 BOND ISSUE FOR SCHOOL

LANCASTER, Sept. 9.—Lancaster voters will ballot on a $225,000 bond issue proposal at the November election for "permanent improvement" in the school system. It includes the election of a new East school building and Cedar Heights school.

A. B. VanGundy was awarded the contract for building the high school's industrial laboratory on a base bid of $13,800 with alternates added by the board raising the total to $14,085.

Drummers, German Band To Visit New Holland

The American Legion drum corps and the Little German band, Circleville musical units, and a large delegation of residents will go to New Holland, Thursday night, to celebrate Circleville Night at the sixteenth annual fall festival in the village.

The festival opened Wednesday night with Washington C. H. as the honored city. No musical organizations of the Fayette county city attended the festival, but a large group of residents moved into the village.

In addition to the regular festival attractions, many New Holland merchants have arranged displays. A trapeze act is presented at 8:30 and 11 p. m. Dances are being held in the Town Hall pavilion.

Friday has been set aside as Chillicothe night and Saturday as Columbus night.

The gala day of the festival will be on Saturday. There will be a double-header baseball program and a horse-pulling contest. The New Holland Boosters will play

JUDGE MAY ORDER GIRL TO FORGET MOVIE HOPES

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Supreme Court Justice Francis G. Hooley was forced to decide today whether a 16-year-old aspiring movie star should be restrained from trying her luck in Hollywood.

The request for a restraining order was made by Adele Beer's father, Frank Beer, who contended that the California movie colony atmosphere would have a detrimental influence on her.

Justice Hooley reserved decision but hinted that he was sympathetic with the girl's problem.

BANDITS OBTAIN $2,000 'RANSOM' AT MUNCIE, IND.

Rich Bank President and Wife Held Captives For Two Hours

MUNCIE, Ind., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Two armed bandits today bound and held prisoner Oliver Storer, millionaire president of the Muncie Banking company, and his wife for two hours until the bank cashier, summoned by telephone, delivered $2,000 to the Storers home.

The thieves forced their way into Storer's residence this morning and aroused the banker and his wife at pistol point. Amid a stream of curses and abuse, the couple was tied to chairs, one of the pair snarling that he would "blow your head off" if Storer tried to sound an alarm.

Storer told police that the bandits evidently knew him but that he recognized neither of them.

One of the gunmen said: "You've helped ruin me and we" (Continued on Page Six)

ATTENDANCE TOO LOW, SO LEGION DELAYS MEETING

No report of the nominating committee of the American Legion was presented Wednesday night. The attendance was so low no meeting could be held.

Arrangements were being worked out Thursday for both the nomination and election to be held at the next meeting. Cards will be mailed to members urging them to attend.

Shrapnel Bursts Close to Building Killing Four Chinese Civilians

PATROL SHIP ESCAPES

Isabel, Under Fire, Speeds Behind Destroyer

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Shrapnel shells endangered the United States consulate and the American navy patrol ship Isabel today as fighting between Japanese and Chinese armies approached the peak of fury.

One shell burst 10 yards away from the entrance to the American consulate general and left four shattered bodies of Chinese in the street.

The little Isabel, steaming up the river, was brought under heavy fire in the Whangpoo river. Japanese artillery, bombarding the native Chapel quarter north of the international settlement, started one of the biggest fires of the battle for Shanghai.

Japs Resume Bombing
Its army all but immobilized by a stone-wall Chinese defense, Japan announced—and put into effect—a merciless bombing campaign.

CASH FROM SLOT MACHINES MUST GO INTO COUNTY

COLUMBUS, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Money contained in slot machines seized by a sheriff during a gambling raid must be legally confiscated but must be accounted for by the sheriff and paid into the county treasury, Attorney General Herbert S. Duffy held today.

The opinion was given in response to an inquiry from M. Lloyd James, Delaware county prosecutor.

AL SMITH GIVES HIS SUPPORT TO FOE OF NEW DEAL

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Former Governor Alfred E. Smith entered the mayoralty campaign today as an active supporter of Sen. Royal S. Copeland, candidate for both the Democratic and Republican nominations.

Copeland's headquarters announced that Smith would deliver two addresses, one on Monday night and the second on Wednesday night on the eve of the primary. Tammany Hall, which is backing Copeland in the Democratic primary, announced that, contrary to custom, there would be no rally in the hall.

Smith's decision to come actively to Copeland's support was an indication to most observers that the New Deal would remain a major issue in the campaign, despite Copeland's statement yesterday virtually ruling it out.

It was believed that Smith would attack Copeland's opponents—Jeremiah T. Mahoney in the Democratic primary and Mayor F. H. La Guardia in the Republican primary—on the ground that they were pro-New Deal.

MEDFORD GOOD ENROUTE TO SERVICE IN CHINA

Medford Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Good, W. Corwin street, is a member of the United States marine corps aboard the U. S. S. Chaumont, enroute to China. The ship is scheduled to reach the Shanghai area Sept. 21.

Terry Hitchcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hitchcock, E. Union street, is aboard the U. S. S. Marblehead acting as a convoy for the Chaumont. Hitchcock is a member of the navy.

Officers Aid In Madison County Hunt

Fissell, Radcliff Search For Two Auto Thieves Trapped In Field

Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell and Police Officer Carl Radcliff participated in the search in Madison county, Wednesday, for two men wanted for theft of an auto in Columbus.

One man was captured. He gave his name as Robert Miller, 35, of Columbus. His companion escaped into a corn field. Miller contended he had not been with the other man when the car was stolen.

Officers of several counties, members of the state highway patrol and an airplane participated in the hunt. More than 100 officers and volunteers searched a 100-acre field of corn Wednesday evening, but were forced to give up the hunt because of darkness.

Enroute to Georgia
Miller told officers his companion was Russell Oakley, 25, also of Columbus. He said they planned to go to Georgia.

The car was stolen in Columbus from the rear of the Ohio Fuel Gas Co., N. Front street, near central police station. Joseph Cope, Gas Co. employe, said he saw the car taken and pursued the thieves on the C. C. highway. He said the men struck and damaged six other cars before reaching Harrisburg.

After reaching Harrisburg they went north to Georgesville, through London and then toward West Jefferson. When turning into a side road the car went out of control and landed in a ditch, breaking a front wheel. They leaped from the car and ran into a corn field. Sheriff Gorman Clark, of Madison county, caught Miller sneaking along a railroad right of way.

Constable Dean Smith of Rome, a Franklin county deputy, boarded a plane with Pilot Lee Miller at Sullivan airport to search.

Officers of Madison, Pickaway and Greene counties scoured the corn field.

COUNTY ACCEPTS ADDITION; MORE OFFICES TO MOVE

Formal acceptance of the addition to the courthouse was made Wednesday by the county commissioners.

The building has been completed for the last week, but a few minor adjustments were ordered by the commissioners.

To date the only office in the addition is that of the board of health. Other offices will be moved in soon, but so far no definite moving dates have been set.

Daughters to Administer Estate of Samuel Lindsay

Mrs. Fleta Neil Beatty, Muhlenberg township, and Mrs. Ada May Cook, Walnut township, were appointed administrators of the estate of their father, Samuel Lindsay, Park Place, Wednesday.

The estate is estimated at $45,750 including $1,000 in personal property and $40,750 in real estate.

BRITAIN ADVISES CONVOY SYSTEM TO FIGHT 'SUBS'

Program Used in World War To Be Suggested At Friday Meeting

REJECTION NOTES SENT

Powers Blame Italians For Inland Sea Attacks

LONDON, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Great Britain, faced with an Italian-German boycott of the Lake Geneva "pirate" submarine conference, intends to propose a world war model convoy system to protect shipping in the Mediterranean, it was understood today.

Italy and Germany today delivered notes rejecting the British.

French invitation to attend the conference, to be held tomorrow.

As the result delegates of nine European powers—Britain, France, Russia, Yugoslavia, Romania, Bulgaria, Greece, Turkey and Egypt—are to meet either at Nyon or Geneva to discuss the submarine menace to Mediterranean shipping. Albania was invited also, but being Italy's satellite, was expected to abstain.

Danger Prevails
The conference might well mark the beginning of a new, acutely dangerous phase of European politics. Everybody knows that the powers believe Italy is the officially unidentified power whose submarines are aiding the Spanish Nationalists—seeking to immobilize the Loyalist armies by depriving them of the fuel they must import in steamships.

It was in expectation of an Italian-German boycott that Britain prepared the convoy plan.

Put bluntly and undiplomatically, the plan is to protect merchant shipping against, and sink if necessary, Italian submarines which may aid the Nationalists by practical activities.

The plan is Britain's and is attributed to Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain personally.

British and French warships—and warships of any other nation that agreed to co-operate—would escort merchant ships from end to end of the Mediterranean. They would have orders to sink without mercy any submarine or other warship, any airplane, that sought to attack the convoy on the high seas.

Both Britain and France mean business. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden starts today for Switzerland. With him go Sir Robert Vansittart, permanent undersecretary for foreign affairs; Admiral Sir Ernle Chatfield, first sea lord and chief of naval staff, and a formidable group of naval and air force experts. Eden is to have dinner in Paris with French Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos. Delbos himself will be backed at the Lake Geneva conference by the chief of the naval general staff, (Continued on Page Six)

PAVILION IS FILLED FOR HEIFER AUCTION

100 Jerseys Bring Prices From $15 to $54, Average Being $29.25

HOG MART DOWN DIME

Louisiana Stock Offered To Countians

Pickaway county dairy farmers were in their element Wednesday evening when the county Livestock Co-operative association offered 100 jersey heifers from the herd of Hughie Long, Shreveport, La., at auction in its sale barn on E. Corwin street.

The sale pavilion was crowded by buyers and spectators during the entire evening that started a few minutes before 8 and continued until after 10 o'clock. The sale was conducted by John Baker and Clarence Latham of Columbus. Frank Lyle of Bellefontaine was in charge of the heifer herd.

All 100 heads that Lyle brought to Circleville were sold, prices ranging from $15 to $54. The average price was $29.25. In many instances bidding was spirited.

The regular sale of the co-operative, conducted in the afternoon, saw 560 hogs, 302 heads of cattle, 63 calves, and 178 sheep and lambs pass through the yards.

The hog price was slightly off, good to choice stock bringing $11.15, about 10 cents less than a week ago. The cattle market was firm.

TOWN CRIER AND BELL THEME OF YULE SEAL SALE

The Town Crier and his bell are to be the general theme for the annual Christmas Seal Sale which will open Thanksgiving Day and continue until Christmas.

"Everybody buys and uses Christmas Seals because tuberculosis is everybody's problem" is the thought to be emphasized in song and story and addresses and printed articles in the course of the campaign.

The National Tuberculosis Association conceived the idea of asking Alexander Wollcott, the eminent author, critic and commentator, to deliver an address in support of the Christmas Seal Sale. He consented to do so and his address will be transcribed, the records to be made available for use by radio stations throughout the United States.

Mr. Wollcott has won wide renown through his Town Crier talks over the radio, in which he has commented in a fascinating way on many topics of intense interest. Some time ago Mr. Wollcott lost the bell with which he announced the Town Crier program and was compelled to substitute another. As a result he received a veritable avalanche of fan mail, with the query, "What has happened to your bell?"

Those in charge of the Christmas Health Seal Sale this year have been working on a special program for schools, in which the bell is to be one of the outstanding features. The National Association, through the courtesy of Mrs. Satis N. Coleman, introduced her book on Bells, in connection with an interesting exhibit of small and unusual bells at its annual meeting in May at Milwaukee.

Satin continues to maintain its popularity for the molded evening gown and for the dinner suit.

Higley Accepts Job
Joseph Higley, son of Prof. C. A. Higley and wife, was graduated last Friday at Ohio State university in the class of electrical engineering. He is now employed by a Philadelphia firm, Leeds & Northrup, and will serve with pay, a two-year apprenticeship with them. This firm manufactures what is known as precision measuring instruments.

Wheat Drill Traded
After using a wheat drill for thirty-two years on the same farm, it would seem that one was entitled to a new and up-to-date tool provided, of course, that he wanted it. Ray Plum said that he traded this old resident in on a new one and if his new purchase holds out as well as the old one did, he'll not likely need to make any more trades.

And while we are telling you about drills, a farmer told us about one today that is a "newfangled" kind, sows the wheat in the ground in such shape and at such a depth that it only requires fifty pounds of seed wheat to the acre, instead of the usual ninety or more pounds. The amount saved in seed is supposed to pay for this new drill in a couple of years. No, this is no advertisement, have no drills to sell, but if it is something different, it is news.

Silos Being Filled
The dozens of silos in the community are being filled now and the people who are doing the filling have to eat occasionally and they have found that the Ashville restaurants do a good job of feeding one who is hungry. The Newton restaurant served thirty diners to silo workers yesterday. Mr. Newton told us he made 120 gallons of ice cream yesterday and has made and sold here nearly 3,500 gallons of this homemade cream the past year.

School of 1884
In June, 1884, the directors of this Ashville school district, known as Number Six, was governed by these three officials. They were George Brintlinger, Henry Culp and Dr. Charles Steward. The Board of Education for Harrison township was composed of Enos Burgett, George Greenfield, Frank Peters, Charles Cromwell, George Wilson, George Brintlinger. None of these are now living.

Many of the new plain shirt-waist dresses for sportswear are of chambray. It is also very popular and durable for golfing costumes.

JOLSON, ET AL.

Thirteen weeks of radio idleness ended for Al Jolson, Martha Raye, Parkyakarkus and Victor Young's orchestra on Tuesday night of this week, when the Jolson banner was again run up on the Coast-to-Coast Columbia network.

Bringing George Jessel as the first in a series of guest stars, to appear on alternate weeks, Jolson had his 1936-37 company intact.

The new show, strangely enough, was the only radio program featuring four bona fide film personalities. Jolson has been under contract to Warner Bros. Miss Raye is now an established screen star, and Parkyakarkus works for RKO-Radio. Victor Young is one of Paramount's music directors.

No one program was the subject of more discussion than the Jolson show which took to the air last fall. Replacing Ken Murray and featuring Jolson, Miss Raye and Sid Silvers, the half-hour seemed to lack coordination and zip.

Critics throughout the country jumped on it almost gleefully, and for a time the show and Jolson's radio future hung in a precarious position. Sid Silvers was definitely a person who must be seen, and it was at his own suggestion that he severed connections with the show. Martha Raye, who had skyrocketed to fame in the motion pictures, was still inexperienced in radio, and she was trying too hard to attain perfection. Only Young's orchestra and Jolson's courage held the show together.

Then the sponsors got busy. Silvers left and was replaced by Parkyakarkus. Tiny Ruffner was won away from "Show Boat" to act as announcer-producer.

Slowly the revised program began to take definite shape. Within a few weeks after Ruffner took the job, it was moving along at a rapid pace. Jolson's courage had burst into renewed enthusiasm, and Martha Raye had "found" herself. Six weeks later the half-hour variety show, which had held so little promise at first, had soared to a ranking reserved for only the best programs on the air.

Besides being used extensively for sports dresses and other frocks, challis is being employed for handbags, shoes, scarfs and millinery for the resort season.

VERSIONS OLD BOOKS OR TEACHING

Visual Chemistry Course
Harks Back To The Days Of 1775

RARE VOLUMES USED

Scenes of Iron Smelting
Among Natives Shown

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Rare books written by two chemists more than a century before development of motion pictures have furnished the "shooting script" for the first of a series of classroom chemical films to be used this fall in schools throughout the country.

The books, written by the 18th century chemists, Joseph Priestley and Antoine Lavoisier, were discovered in the treasure room of the University of Rochester library. Lavoisier is credited with founding modern chemistry, and Priestley was the discover of oxygen.

The initial film of the series, sponsored jointly by the American Chemical Society and the Teaching Films division of Eastman Kodak Company, will demonstrate the following stages in the development of chemistry:

The empirical chemical production of metal by savages; the hopeful guesswork of alchemists; the enthusiastic pioneering of the amateur, Priestley; the scientific approach of Lavoisier, and modern applications of chemistry.

Best Material.
The chemical society, which announced the series, said standard works on chemical history failed adequately to furnish material for such film.

"The first film starts with scenes of iron smelting among primitive African savages," the society stated, "and shows the alchemist's endeavor to convert base metals into gold, and then sketches the experiments of Priestley and Lavoisier."

In the epilogue, modern applications of chemistry in agriculture, medicine and industry are shown. The Priestley and Lavoisier works were published in 1775.

Even Chaperone Ditched In New Etiquette Code

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Emily Post, who put etiquette on a paying basis back in 1922, is bending a social knee to the behavior of our times. The famous authority on good manners has rewritten completely her earlier standards to comply with a changing world.

For 16 years Mrs. Post's blue-covered book has been the final appeal on what constitutes gentility and good taste. But a new generation has so kicked over the traces of horse and buggy days gentility that Mrs. Post has been forced to give ground.

This she does, reluctantly but gracefully, in a new edition of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage," published today by Funk and Wagnalls. Mrs. Post has not been content to chop away an outmoded custom here, and relax a hidebound convention there. She has almost thrown the old edition out the window and written a new one.

Old Order Changeth
Many modern historians have pointed out the ruthless way in which Americans have taken shortcuts across the back lots of social custom. But nowhere is the process of changing etiquette as boldly apparent as in Mrs. Post's new edition. "Mrs. Post admits—but not quite—casts a sigh over some of the conventions which she scraps, and there is often a note of anxiety as to where our new freedom may lead us.

Mrs. Post now accepts practices which would have created a national furor had she sponsored them two decades ago. For example: a young woman may dine alone with a young man in his bachelor flat (providing, of course, she is positive that neither her reputation nor her self-respect will be damaged thereby).

No Chaperones
The author flatly consigns chaperones to the ash heap, concluding that a girl's best chaperone is the training she has received before she makes her debut. She even goes so far as to say that when a college boy hangs his fraternity pin on a co-ed, it may be accepted as a formal engagement of marriage. And that, as Mrs. Post almost allows herself to admit, is quite a social jump from 1920.

Actually, the theme of Mrs. Post's social dicta now is not rigid formality, but informal comfort. Just about anything that is sensible and practical and inoffensive is (to use a word not in Mrs. Post's vocabulary) okay. And a young modern who cannot afford either a maid or a banquet, can with decorum invite her friends to "supper" instead of dinner, and toss them up hash and scrambled eggs. It'd be "de rigueur," so to speak.

The Woman Can Pay
Here are a few other new standards of etiquette:

It is permissible for a woman to pay the dinner check when she dines with a man, if he is indigent and she has money.
It's proper for a girl to attend, unchaperoned, a fraternity house party and stay overnight in the fraternity house if the occasion is a time-honored festival on the campus. (But she should take only one suitcase.)

It is correct to leave a party early in order to go home and listen to a favorite radio program.

Smoking Etiquette
Trends of the times can be seen in a chapter on smoking etiquette, on motoring manners, adev in a section on short ocean cruises.

There also a discussion of the young man's problem when he's invited to parties where he knows the bridges stakes will be high, or where he'll be roped in for theater tickets after dinner. Young man, the thing to do in that case, is to decline the invitation.

Mrs. Post still clings to a few positive "don'ts" Her formal dinner is as stiff-shirted as ever. Her big wedding, her coming out party, her little niceties about correspondence, are as pat as formerly. People still may not smoke at dinner, unless the hostess has signified her permission by placing cigarettes on the table. And no lady smokes on the street, even yet.

Card Etiquette Stays
Visiting cards, too, still hang on, although it is no longer necessary to leave a whole pack of them at a door without even ringing the bell. Calling cards have disintegrated some, Mrs. Post admits. For example, instead of leaving a card, it is proper nowadays to telephone an acquaintance and say: "I have not seen you for weeks. Won't you come to lunch?" Or you may duck the conventional calls by sending people an invitation to come over to your house for a cocktail. A lot of the best people are doing that, it seems.

Now and then Mrs. Post wrestles with a problem that is almost too much for a book of etiquette. Take for example, this subheading from the new volume: "How can a man with almost no money take a nice girl out?"

68-YEAR SERVICE TO CHURCH CITED BY BLIND WOMAN

GREENSBORO, N. C. (UP)—Sixty-eight years of church attendance without a single absence during the past 23 years is the record of Miss Theresa Dettmering, 83, who has been blind since childhood.

Miss Dettmering, who has lived at 211 Mebane Street for more than 25 years, joined the First Presbyterian Church August 29, 1869, at the age of 15.

Friends of the aged spinster call for her each Sunday and take her to church.

TO TEACH HOGS BETTER MANNERS BY ELECTRICITY

COLUMBUS, O. (UP)—Robert I. Simmons has devised a gadget to make "gentlemen of hogs" by preventing them from knocking the milk slop from his hands when he tries to feed them.

By using a metal trough and a rheostat, he treats unruly pigs to a slight electrical shock, if they approach the food too soon. If one does happen to touch the trough, a light goes on, giving the animal additional warning to wait until dinner is "formally" announced.

EX-REGAL AIDE IS NOW GUIDING ISLE'S TOURISTS

HONOLULU (UP)—America is soon to take on the airs of foreign capitals in having an official of monarchical times explain to tourists the ins and outs of America's one and only monarchical palace.

Colonel Curtis P. Iaukea, former chamberlain of the Hawaiian monarchy and once intimately associated with the royal household, has just been created official commentator of the Iolani Palace, home of the former Hawaiian kings, but now used as the Capitol or American territorial government building.

The aged colonel will conduct tourists around the former throne room and lecture briefly on the former days of palace life with which he was so closely associated.

Although shorn of much of its former glory, the room still has the distinction of being the only throne room on American soil.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

It's never been done before, what Ann Dvorak and John Trent do to a light society mystery in "She's No Lady," the gay romance which is showing tonight at the Cliftona Theatre. Together for the first time as screen romantics, these two players tear the lid off conventional gangster technique to provide a hilarious farce sparkling with gay dialogue.

Rollicking is the word for it. From the moment Trent, as an apparently inept but handsome young man staggers into an exclusive bar blowing a toy balloon, and begins flirting with beautiful Ann Dvorak who is teasing alone, whimsy and gay dialogue carry the show.

"She's No Lady" is a comedy of errors, based on the theme "thief catch thief." Miss Dvorak and Trent play roles of double mistaken identity. That's where the title comes in. Miss Dvorak as Jerry, the right paw for jewel thieves, is not what she seems. And Trent playing Alden Carter III also has a card up his sleeve.

AT THE GRAND

Featuring Brian Donlevy and Frances Drake, Twentieth Century-Fox's "Midnight Taxi," at the Grand Theatre, is a thrilling screen adaptation of the Argosy Magazine story by Borden Chase which caused such a sensation among lovers of red-blooded fiction when it first appeared.

Dealing with the clever methods used by Federal secret-service men on the trail of a baffling ring of counterfeiters, the film is a most timely one when it is realized that about 3,500 arrests are made each year on counterfeiting charges and that the amount of "queer money" estimated to be in daily circulation reaches into millions of dollars.

TAX COLLECTOR DISCOVERS PLAN TO HELP TRAFFIC

ESSEX, Conn. (UP)—Tax Collector E. E. Comstock has suggested the selectmen appoint him special traffic constable. He said while he had taken in some tax money on the first day of the second instalment, he could "do lots more."

He added that any crowd on Main street seems to thin out whenever he appears, particularly this time of year.

CRYSTAL METAL REPORTED FOUND ON SOVIET LAND

NOVOSIBIRSK, U. S. S. R. (UP)—Small nuggets of gold in the form of regular octahedron crystals have been found at the recently discovered Berezov gold deposit.

These finds are particularly interesting geologically, since they confirm the theory of the essential role of chemical processes in the origin of auriferous sand deposits. According to this theory, which until now has not been confirmed by sufficient factual material, gold in solution with water crystallizes and precipitates in sand. The crystals now found are being carefully studied.

CROP OF PEACHES TO BE SUBJECTED TO A 'BEARDING'

RICHWOOD, N. J. (UP)—Southern New Jersey peaches are being shaved before they reach the market.

Recent heavy rains brought out fuzz on the fruit and dealers complained. An ingenious steel-fingered device was attached to sorting machines.

The device nips off the "beard"—and the dealers are happy with the new "crop."

Asks Heart Balm

ALLEGING he persuaded her to marry him after they met aboard a ship on an Alaskan tour and stating she did not learn for some time he was a married man, Lillian Kinsinger, stenographer, sued Clifford Herbert, son of the late composer, Victor Herbert, for $25,000 heart balm in Los Angeles. Herbert characterized the incident as a "mild flirtation."

NIAGARA FALLS RECALLS EVENT OF LATE '70S

Tightrope Crossing Of Blondin Sensation
For Months

100,000 SAW DARING ACT

Frenchman Cool While Many Women Fainted

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y., Sept. 9 (UP)—A throng of 100,000 spectators lined the American and Canadian sides of Niagara Falls just 78 years ago to watch a Frenchman, known as Blondin, carry a man on his back while he walked across the cataract on a tightrope.

Blondin, whose real name was Jean Francois Granele, had mastered the art of tightrope walking in France, and after he had given that country its fill of thrills came to the United States to make the hazardous crossing.

After long and involved preparations, Blondin announced he would carry a man across on the rope, strapped to his back in a chair. A dare-devil from Chicago, Henry A. Colcord, volunteered his services.

Both Were Cool

On the eventful day, according to accounts of the incident, Blondin and Colcord were "perfectly cool and confident" as they prepared to make their death-defying stunt. Blondin wore tight shoes and moccasins. His companion wore a full dress suit, but no hat.

With the rope swaying in the wind, Blondin and Colcord began their journey from the American side.

"Many men and women fainted," one account said. "Audible prayers went up for their safety from women thrilled to the highest pitch of excitement."

Rest Periods

Three times Colcord had to descend from Blondin's shoulders, it was said, so that the Frenchman might rest his tired muscles. When the pair reached the half-way mark, Colcord broke adding to the horror of the onlookers. Finally, after a half hour that seemed an eternity they reached the Canadian side and safety.

Blondin gave several other exhibitions in this county and then returned to France where he died 40 years ago. Colcord, an artist, painted pictures until he reached an old age.

Windjammer Makes Ready to Sail On Long Trip Around Cape Horn In Search of Dinosaurs and Such

Couple Will Carry
Seven Scientists on Small Craft

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — As soon as the Caribbean hurricane season is past—seafaring folk may be as adventurous as they please and still have a prejudice against West Indies hurricanes.

Anyway, as soon as the hurricane season is over, which will be about Oct. 1, Captain and Captainess Robert Ferguson Muir will set sail (and when I say sail I mean SAIL, not steam) for a little cruise from Washington, down the Potomac, Chesapeake Bay and our south Atlantic coast, across the Gulf of Mexico, through the Panama canal, all around South America and back again, to their craft's present anchorage off Hains Point, just opposite the war college.

This is Captain and Captainess Muir's notion of just a nice outing at sea.

Making History
It's nothing to the Muirs that it is at least a generation since a "windjammer" has rounded the Horn.

At that, perhaps it isn't respectful to speak of their ketch Normona as a windjammer. Technically a ketch is "a strongly-built fore-and-aft rigged vessel with two masts—a large mainmast toward the bow and a smaller mizzenmast toward the stern, but in front of the rudder."

The Normona looks the part and more, too.

But she doesn't look like a windjammer. She looks like a yacht, inside and out. Incidentally she has an auxiliary engine, but essentially her mission is to "jam wind."

Christopher Columbus' initial flagship, the Santa Maria, was a windjammer of 100 tons.

The Normona is a few tons bigger than that, but not much. A today's freight boat of 5,000 tons rates as a peewee. The Normona is approximately 1-45th that size. Yet a 5,000-ton cargo boat, propelled by steam, is pretty careful where it goes. It worries as to weather. It has no nerve. It wouldn't think of rounding the Horn. For one thing, it wouldn't pay. Away down the southern Chilean and Patagonian coasts there's no business to be picked up. A few miles back in the interior, those coasts haven't even been explored. There are stories of Mesozoic reptiles in their fastnesses. I don't believe 'em, but such yarns are told.

Romance

Robinson Crusoe's island is down in that part of the world. No commercial craft cares a hoot for that kind of thing. The Normona, however, simply is bursting for that sort of information. If it hears, for example, of a loose dinosaur ashore, half way between Valparaiso and Magellan, its inclination is to put in and investigate.

It should be an instructive cruise.

Maybe I shouldn't say Captain and "Captainess" Muir.

Captain Muir is the skipper all right. Mrs. Muir speaks of herself as purser, the voyage's cashier. Nevertheless, a ship's purser has a good bit of authority.

The captain is a Briton, a military veteran, with a maritime background also. And Mrs. Muir? Where did she get her deep sea

RETAILERS MEET FRIDAY AT 6:30 AT COUNTRY CLUB MAYOR RELEASES YOUTH, 18, NAMED IN BOY'S DEATH

Reports on the recent election of officers and directors of the Retail Merchants' association will be announced at a meeting of the organization to be held at the Pickaway Country club Friday at 6:30 p. m.

A report of the activities of the organization during the last year will be presented. No speaker has been obtained.

George Griffith and Karl Herrman were nominated for president.

training? Why, she's from Nebraska. Oh, they met in Mexico, where Mrs. Muir quotes some local commentator to the effect that she "married hell" out of her husband. It was a good bet both ways.

The Muirs will carry a crew of about half a dozen—enough hands to stand watches, without overwork, all the time. They already have their crew enlisted.

They reckon that they have accommodations for seven passengers.

The kind of passengers they want are those who are interested in their particular variety of cruise—oceanographic, meteorological, piscatorial, geographical and miscellaneous scientific folk. There's considerable competition for berths, but the Muirs are choosy.

Put in your applications early if you want to go along.

I'll pass 'em to the Muirs. It isn't advertising, you couldn't for $1,000,000, stuff that ketch full of more than seven passengers. It would sink.

Six or seven months is what it will take, they say.

CHILLICOTHE, O. Sept. 9 — William Galbraith, 18, was acquitted today of manslaughter charges growing out of the death, August 10, of Wayne Roush, 16. Although University Hospital authorities at Columbus said Roush died of tubercular meningitis, the boy's father, G. A. Roush, who filed the complaint, asserted meningitis was the result of a blow the boy had received in a tussle with Galbraith over an empty pocketbook on July 4.

Mayor William E. Higley dismissed the charges for lack of evidence.

LETTER CARRIERS ASK RELIEF FROM MANY HINDRANCES

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 9 — (UP)—The postmen, who have been long suffering with their plagues of rain, dogs, doorbells and catalogues, decided today to ask for relief.

A series of resolutions was drawn up for the National Letter Carriers Convention resolving that it was time to:

1. Enact legislation whereby the "owner of a dog will be held liable for damages to a carrier bitten during the performance of his duties."
2. Prohibit colored envelopes to be used in the mails, "because such envelopes when wet are injurious to the health of the carrier as well as staining the other mail and the dark colored envelopes are injurious to the eyesight."
3. Put drying systems in post-offices where carriers may dry their clothes after working in the rain.
4. Have the magazine "Fortune" delivered by parcel post, because it is so bulky that a carrier can put only three of them in his sack with other mail, and the same for catalogues.
5. Make it unnecessary for a postman to ring doorbells, because it requires a lot of extra steps and besides the householder usually thinks it is a peddler and refuses to answer the ring.

OHIO AND OHIO OF C. DEBATE RELIEF QUESTION

Appropriation of $2,500,000
May Not Be Legal, State
Officials Told

EXPERTS ARE AT ODDS

Sum Far Short of Needs,
Municipalities Say

COLUMBUS, Sept. 9 — (UP) — Governor Davey's administration and the Ohio Chamber of Commerce were at odds today over the question whether the legislature can safely appropriate $2,500,000 to help Ohio cities pay their relief costs for the closing months of 1937.

The chamber's research director, Dr. Arch D. Schultz, recently estimated that this amount was available, and he defended his figures late yesterday before the legislature's unofficial joint relief committee.

Previously Merlyn Brenneman, budget director in the state finance department, had challenged the chamber's data and told the committee no relief money could be taken from the general revenue fund this year.

Their conflicting positions are, briefly:

Brenneman's — That there may be a balance in the general revenue fund at the end of the year, but the money must be conserved to meet state governmental operating costs in the early months of 1938, before new revenues come in to replenish the fund.

Schultz's — That money can safely be appropriated and spent this year up to the limit of the anticipated year-end balance, and temporary transfers from other funds that can be made to meet operating costs in early 1938, to be paid back as revenues come in later next year.

Even the $2,500,000 appropriation, if it should be approved by the committee and passed by the legislature, would fall far short of estimates by the Ohio League of Municipalities that the cities and townships need $4,250,000 in addition to present resources to balance their relief books by Dec. 31. The committee adjourned until next Wednesday immediately after hearing Schultz. Previously the members had indicated no intention to recommend a state relief appropriation for the remainder of this year.

paign. Area after area of Shanghai and the country round it was bombed by squadrons of war planes.

Twelve Japanese planes, trying to wipe out Chinese troops entrenched in the Footing section, dropped bombs for 45 minutes near the American owned Shanghai power plant and Socony-Vacuum plant.

A Japanese army spokesman announced that from now on the Japanese intend to bomb every railroad train in the country round Shanghai and that if civilians are to be spared, neutral countries must guarantee the status of selected refugee trains.

It was apparent that the Japanese were hardening their attitude because of the astonishing stand made by the Chinese against the shock troops sent here to drive them from the coast.

Japanese spokesmen admitted that at some points the Chinese themselves were on the attack, notably at Lotien, the key town north of Shanghai, and to the east of the city. All the spokesmen would say was that the Japanese held original positions.

The Isabel, a pre-World War yacht, and its 99 officers and men were put in urgent danger in the Whangpoo by cross-fire between Japanese warships and Chinese machine guns on the river bank.

So heavy was the fire that the Isabel had to make a right angle turn at high speed to get behind the Japanese destroyers. It ran up an additional American flag and raced up the river to safety, smoke billowing from its stacks.

ROTARIANS HEAR PLEA OF DEPUTY TO COMBAT CRIME

Closer co-operation between law enforcement organizations and higher training for officers in criminal science are needed to combat present-day crime, Deputy Sheriff Miller Fissell told Rotarians Thursday noon.

He cited the importance of federal, state, city, county and township officers working together, not only for the apprehension of criminals but for the protection of the officers themselves. Professional men, he explained, play an important part in the solution of crimes. He cited an experience in the sheriff's department where a school house burglary was solved by teeth prints on an apple. A local dentist assisted in this case. Mr. Fissell told Rotarians newspapers played an important part in the solution of crimes and their co-operation has been valuable in solving some of the major crimes of recent years.

He appealed to members to boost a movement for laws in Circleville against window peeping. Many cases of window peeping have been reported in recent months and the city is without the proper laws to meet this crime. His appeal was referred to the public service committee of the club.

An explanation of new traffic laws regarding speeds was given, and he called the attention of motorists to the expiration of their driving licenses, Sept. 30.

CUSTODY, ALIMONY ASKED

Mrs. Ethel Imier, S. Pickaway street, filed suit for custody of a minor son and alimony in common pleas court Thursday against Claude Imier, S. Scioto street, charging neglect of duty. They were married Dec. 11, 1920 in New Lexington.

want this money to keep you from going to Florida this winter."

Finally Storer, acting as the bandits' command, telephoned Miss Thecla Haffner, clerk in the bank, who produced the $2,000 from the institution and delivered it to the Storer home.

The bandits then bound Miss Haffner to a chair and departed with another flow of curses. A valuable diamond ring lying on a chest in the Storer bedroom was not disturbed.

The Storer and Miss Haffner managed to free themselves and notified police after struggling for an hour with their bonds. It was not learned immediately if the men resembled the Brady gang.

JURORS DECIDE CLYDE SEYMOUR WAS INTOXICATED

Clyde Seymour, 24, of Pontius Lane, was convicted of a charge of driving when intoxicated by a common pleas court jury Thursday morning and was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and his rights to drive suspended for six months.

Although he employed no counsel, Seymour asked a jury trial. Prosecutor George Gerhardt represented the state. The jury was out only 10 minutes.

Seymour was arrested last Thursday night. The charge was filed by J. S. Hoover, Ashville, who said he followed the youth south on Route 23 from Bloomfield.

communication with Berlin. x x x "Chief tenet of the German-American bund is an intense hatred of Jews and all things Jewish. Other anti-semitic organizations are lining up with the Bund in what leaders plan will be a general Fascist merger.

"Jews and Communists are almost synonymous in the Bund mind. The day of bloodshed will come, leaders say, when 'Jewish-Mongrel-Communists attempt to seize the government just as they did in Germany.'

"In one breath," Mueller wrote, "they predict there never will be another Democratic election in the United States; in the next, they talk of uniting with other 'Aryan' groups in a political party to 'uphold the Constitution.'"

John Metcalfe wrote that Herman Schwarzmann, whom he named "Fuehrer" of the Astoria, Long Island, post, told him that Jews in the United States are "grabbing control of everything." He quoted Schwarzmann as saying:

Schwarzmann Quoted

"This is exactly what took place in Germany. Finally the people rose up in resentment. This will happen here—it is inevitable. When that day comes, and it probably is not far off, we must be prepared to fight for the right kind of government. x x x

"There will likely be bloodshed and fighting."

Schwarzmann told him, Metcalfe wrote, that "in all likelihood the day of trouble will come with a financial crisis in Washington. Then will be the time to wipe out the Jews."

Times reporters said the "American Hitler"—the national fuehrer of the Amerikadeutscher Volksbund—"is Fritz Kuhn, former chemist for the Ford hospital in Detroit and the Ford Motor company. His offices, they said, are in New York.

Leader of the Chicago Deutscher Bund, Mueller wrote, is Fritz Heberling. He quoted Heberling as saying:

"We are under von man only—Hitler. We deal mit the consul general of Germany here in this country. We take orders from Hitler—no von else. x x x We haf nothing to vory about. Ve do no harm. Ve do not haf guns and ve do not shoot."

The Times said:

"There are thousands of German-Americans who will stretch their arms in a Hitler salute but who, for financial or business reasons, are not members of the Bund. Some who work for Jewish employers are afraid to join. Other wealthier German-Americans contribute money secretly but have no outward connection with the organization."

The Times said there are 12,000,000 German-Americans in the United States and "the vast majority of German-Americans turn cold shoulders to the Nazi movement."

Kuhn's job, it said, is to enlist them in the Bund.

"German day celebrations in most parts of the country now are given over completely to praise of Hitler. Swastikas appear at concerts, dances and literary meetings, and professional Bund speakers preach the doctrines of national socialism."

Commissioners Unable To Arrive At Road Decision

R. E. A. TO PROVIDE ANOTHER $40,000 IN UNION COUNTY

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 — (UP)

The Rural Electrification Administration has made an additional allotment of $40,000 to the Union Rural Electric Co-operative, Inc., Marysville, O., which is building rural power lines in Marion, Logan and Union counties.

The new allotment will build 40 miles of line to serve about 120 additional customers, dropped from the original project because of re-routing of lines. This makes a total loan of $376,000 to the co-operative.

R. E. A. reported today that the cooperative has erected 244 miles of poles, strung 119 miles of wire, has 230 services installed and is supplying 61 families now using electricity for the first time.

A requisition for $16,877 from the Darke Rural Electric Co-operative at Greenville, O., also has been approved, R. E. A. reported. The Darke project is for 235 miles of lines to serve 828 customers in Darke, Preble and Mercer counties.

GERMANY MAPS SEAPLANE LINE OVER ATLANTIC

Floating Ports Designed;
Test Flights Will Start Soon

ADVANTAGES EXPLAINED

Use of Diesel Engines to Be Stressed by Nazis

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—(UP)—In establishing a regular air mail service over the North Atlantic, Germany will apply methods differing in many respects from those adopted by other nations.

One of the distinctive features of the German service will be the use of the "floating airports" Friesland and Schwabenland, anchored off the Azores and Port Washington, respectively.

In an interview with the United Press, Baron Carl August von Gablenz, director of the Luftwaffe, explained the advantages of these floating airports as follows:

"We believe that it is safer to use flying boats on a trans-oceanic route. However, it is sometimes difficult for flying boats to take off in rough sea. We avoid this difficulty by using our floating airports from where the flying boat can be easily catapulted in any sort of weather. Moreover, of course, the floating bases serve as refueling and repair stations."

Crews to Exceed 50

"The bases have crews of 50 or more—10 Luftwaffe technicians besides North German Lloyd men who all have been especially trained to cope with air traffic problems."

Another peculiarity of the projected German transoceanic service is that Diesel motors are to be used. Baron von Gablenz declared that, in his opinion, Diesel motors were better suited for ocean flights than ordinary gasoline engines.

"For Germany," he said, "it is essential to extend the use of Diesel engines because the heavy oil used in Diesel engines is much cheaper than gasoline. Accordingly, our technicians developed Diesel engines much superior to those used abroad. One great advantage of these new Diesel engines consists in the fact that it uses about 25 percent less fuel than ordinary motors of the same power. According to our calculations, it is more economical to use Diesel engines for flights extending beyond 650 miles, because the greater weight of the engine itself is more than compensated by the saving on fuel."

Baron von Gablenz praised the international co-operation which made the organization of North Atlantic air traffic possible.

Thankful for Co-Operation

"In transoceanic traffic," he said, "everything depends on international co-operation. We owe a great debt of gratitude to American coastal radio stations which supplied us with meteorological data. We also received valuable help from the French observatory ship cruising in the Atlantic, from

TEST OUTLINED AS PROTECTION FOR SWIMMERS

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UP)—Before going for a plunge in some cool mountain stream or lake while vacationing this summer, it might be wise to submit to a test for hypersensitivity to cold, according to the findings of Dr. Bayard T. Horton of Mayo clinic. Hypersensitivity to cold, Dr. Horton explained, has been the cause of many drownings.

A simple course of treatments, according to a theory expounded in a recent report by the physician, will correct the condition and offer the hypersensitive person protection against drowning from that cause.

A test to determine hypersensitivity may be made, the doctor said, by placing an ordinary ice cube on the forearm of an individual for a moment. If, within three or four minutes after exposure to the cold cube, a slight swelling arises, hypersensitivity is proved.

In such cases, Dr. Horton said, histamine, a constituent of liver, gastric mucosa and skeletal muscle, is released and may cause collapse or fainting on sudden exposure to cold.

Injections of histamine twice daily for two or three weeks, the physician said, has proved effective in overcoming the condition. Experiments have not advanced to a point where it can be safely said whether or not the correction is permanent, he said.

It begins to look as if John Chinaman might give the Japs a good laundering.

the Bremen and Europa, and from Portuguese authorities.

"We are gratified by the success of our British and American comrades who have just flown over the Ireland-Newfoundland route. Germany, France, the United States and Britain are engaged in developing transoceanic traffic. I am convinced that there will be no fruitless competition between these nations."

A German flying boat, HA-139, built by the Hamburg Airplane Works, will start trial flights over the North Atlantic soon. The boat is fitted with four Diesel engines. Its speed is 150 miles an hour, and its range is 3,100 miles.

DURATION OF WAR

AS a result of the stiffening resistance and increasing complications of the war on China, the Japanese government has decided to prepare for a struggle of "three years or more". One detail of the program will probably be the canceling of the Olympic Games, which were to be held in Tokyo in 1940.

It is just as well to stop thinking about those games, no matter how long the war is to continue. If we may judge from the world's present mood, it isn't likely to be very enthusiastic about a sportsmen's gathering in Japan for some time.

Moreover, China herself may have the last word about the length of this war. China thinks more slowly, in bigger terms and longer periods. She might decide to make it 30 years. Or 300.

DE-FUZZING

THEY'RE using machines this year in the fruit district around Niagara Falls to take off the fuzz. In the same operation the machine polishes the peaches and grades them for packing.

Maybe it could be used on fresh-complexioned high school boys, without the grading and packing.

It's doubtless pleasanter to bite into a de-fuzzed peach than one covered with down. But really, isn't this going too far, somewhat like taking the bloom off the rose? Fruit in general may be getting too highly mechanized, with all these modern improvements in picking, packing and marketing.

By the way, what has happened about the wonderful discovery we read of a few years ago, about fruit being preserved fresh and flavorful indefinitely by packing it in sealed jars full of nitrogen gas?

RESPONSIBLE LABOR

PERHAPS nothing that organized labor groups have done lately meeting with more public approval than the decision of the United Automobile Workers of America against "wildcat" strikes, or the calling of strikes without waiting for approval of the Executive Board.

It is obviously true, as President Homer Martin says, that "nothing is more dangerous to the labor movement than irresponsibility of divisions within a union." That is dangerous to union labor because it is dangerous to the social order. On the sanctity of contract, as much as anything, depends the stability of society.

You may not believe 'em when they say they're glad to be back, but a lot of these vacationers would shudder if they had to go through that ordeal again, pretending they're he-men in a world of softies.

World At A Glance

There is more political talk to-day, in connection with the 1938 congressional campaign, than, in all probability, ever was current before so far in advance of a coming election.

What is still more peculiar is the fact that Democrats are doing almost all of it.

The Republicans have let out a few faint chirps. Representative Hamilton Fish, Jr., has given his party a certain amount of quite forcibly-expressed advice. Former President Hoover has issued a statement which attracted little attention. G.O.P. National Chairman John D. M. Hamilton also has issued a statement which fell pretty flat.

But, in the main, thus far, the fight seems very little like an inter-party fight. It is more like an intra-Democratic party fight.

G. O. P. TACTICS?

I take the Republicans' comparative silence to be tacitly agreed on policy, on the part of the G. O. P.'s best minds.

It appears to be their theory that the Democratic factions will now one another up most effectively with no Republicans trying to break in and do a share of the fighting. At the last minute I assume they will take the stump in argument.

The ugly things that might be said about the Democrats we

ROOSEVELT WILL VISIT WEST COAST

WASHINGTON—The President will definitely visit the Pacific Coast late this month or early in October.

To ward off the usual deluge of invitations and political conjectures, doubt is still being cast on his plans. But privately he is all set to make the transcontinental trip. The only thing that could keep him from doing so would be a development in the Far East making it imperative for him to remain in Washington.

Great effort will be made to minimize the political significance of the junket. The President will insist that his primary object is to visit his only daughter, Mrs. Anna Dall Boettiger, in Seattle. However, it is a safe bet he will make several, or more, addresses while enroute. And with the political situation what it is, anything he says is sure to have political implications.

Certainly the anti-Administration Democrats through whose States he travels will be acutely alert for any hostile gesture toward them. In political circles there is much lively conjecture over what the anti-New Dealers will do about visiting his train.

Some of the politics are offering wagers that the boys, despite their strong personal antipathy, will be on hand when Roosevelt rolls into their bailiwicks. It will be interesting to see just what they do.

LIFE BEGINS . . . . .

Here is a cheering word for women over forty.

As reported by The Democratic Digest, Mrs. Roosevelt, in response to a question whether young women are more capable of holding business positions than women over forty, replied:

"I certainly do not think so. Women over forty should have acquired experience and be more valuable, as long as they retain their health and ability to adapt themselves to working with other people, if necessary even to work in new ways."

SECURITIES ACT JOKER

The Securities and Exchange Commission has given a new twist to the old adage, "There is more than one way to skin a cat".

Contrary to general belief, the SEC has no authority to compel a company to modify its financial policies or cease practices the Commission considers unsound. A concern can do practically anything it wants as long as it reports its activities in the registration statement that must be filed with the SEC to float an issue of stock or bonds.

The only weapon the Commission has is the power of publicity. That would be ample if investors could easily understand the complicated registration statements, and also take the trouble to read them. The difficulty is that they can't and don't.

What Washington needs is a little frost on the Potomac.

RUSTLE OF SILKS

CHAPTER 46

MARIBARAT, slight and chic, executive as a field marshal, critical as a stage director, sat at her huge table desk in the center of a semi-circle of chairs filled by her staff.

Before her, on the deep carpet which muffled the sound of her footsteps, a mannequin gilded a few steps, wheeled slowly, presented her back, and repeated the performance. All eyes were on her save Mari's. Mari had picked up a pencil and made a rapid change on a memorandum pad.

"That's too long," she said without looking up.

Immediately a hairdresser sprang to his feet and approached the mannequin. Deftly he curled the mannequin's hair into a high or roll.

Mari looked up. "Better," she said. "Come here, my dear. . . . Let me see your hands please."

The mannequin held out her hands, poised them on her curved hips.

Mari nodded, and said curtly, "She'll do."

A clerk led the newly engaged mannequin off to an outer office. M. Barlac, Mari's manager and major domo of the coming opening, checked several numbers off his list, adding the initials of the new mannequin.

A blond entered the door at the left. The performance was repeated.

A frown of concentration reflected the calm of Mari's brow. "Too short," Larry whispered.

"Not at all," Mari replied. "She'll be excellent for the tennis numbers. All American girls aren't tall, Larry, and this opening is aimed at Americans."

The blond, the twenty-fourth and last of the mannequins, was engaged.

"That will be all," Mari said. "Monsieur Barlac, I would like to have you dine with me."

"Certainly, Madame," Mari's staff filed out.

Larry Holk said, "I'd like to put my feet on your desk but I'm too impressed."

"I'm a little bit impressed myself," Mari answered. Her eyes lingered on the details of her new and unfamiliar office. They traveled strangely over the wood paneled walls, the massive furniture that didn't seem massive in the great room, to the high carved ceiling, the long velvet draped windows at her back, to the clean top of her desk.

"Well, how does it feel?" Mari regarded her assistant.

DIET AND HEALTH

Making Milk Palatable If It Causes Discomfort

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
 "I HAVE been advised to drink milk but it does not agree with me. I can't stand it. What shall I do?"

This wall that comes to my desk is one that doctors have to answer all the time.

To analyze the situation we can recognize that there are four possible reasons why milk disagrees, and they may be catalogued clearly by answering the following questions.

1. Does milk disagree with you every time you drink it or just sometimes?

2. Does it give the same digestive symptoms every time it disagrees or do they vary?

3. Does it affect your digestion alone?

4. Can you take milk in other foods—in coffee, tea or ice cream, in bread, with oatmeal?

The first group of milk disagrees are those with a slight digestive disturbance anyway—an irritable colon or a mild gallbladder infection. Milk, with all its excellencies, is a particularly digestible food, and these people in the periods when their digestive functions are upset revolt at it.

The second group is a modification of the first, and without any definite digestive disorders they have a sensitive digestive tract in some way which milk upsets. In some people milk produces a diarrhea, in some a constipation. When it is well digested it is constipating, when not, diarrhea results. Modifying the milk, using boiled, skimmed milk, will get around the tendency to diarrhea. And adding cream will get around the constipating effect. The curd in cow's milk is large. Boiling the milk lessens the curd. That is why it makes it more digestible. The addition of carbonated water, or lime water, does the same thing. A mixture of equal parts of milk, cream and carbonated water is more palatable and more digestible than plain milk.

Curdled Milk Digested
 The best way to insure against the formation of large curds is to curdle the milk before ingestion. That is why in this group buttermilk, junket and Koumyss are better tolerated than raw milk.

The third group are those who are allergic to milk. They should have, to prove this, other symptoms than those referable to the digestive system—such as hives or asthma. I believe these cases must be far rarer than the reports one hears indicate. A great deal of harm has been done by taking people off such necessary articles of food as milk on very flimsy evidence of its allergic qualities. The cases I have heard of strike me as being very poorly analyzed.

The last group, the group who says yes to question 4, are those who have a psychic aversion for milk. It is the largest group. I must say I have a great deal of sympathy with them. Intellectually I praise milk, gastronomically by its smell and taste of it are insipid beyond words. But for these milk soups, milk punches, egg noggs, ice cream and even the addition of cream, half and half, solves the difficulty.

The modification of milk for adults should be studied as much as it has been for children. With proper resourcefulness nearly any prejudice can be overcome.

Dumpkopf system which consists of trying to hold the score down, if possible.

There are no letter men left over from last season. This is really a great break because last year's squad was so bad it made only three points in 10 games.

That score was a fluke and if the referee hadn't felt sorry for Sauerkraut the points would not have counted. However, the other team didn't mind since it was 122 points ahead at the time.

The score happened when Sauerkraut's fullback accidentally drop-kicked the ball. Just then the goal posts collapsed and the ball rolled over the cross bar which was lying on the ground.

Dummy made a speech to his new squad today and told them about that score. He said that the school would have to live down the disgrace of last season.

"This year," he concluded "we will show them what Sauerkraut can really do. No more freak three points to show for a full season's play. This year you boys are going to score at least seven!"

MEAT-VEGETABLE RING—One egg, beaten; one-fourth cup milk, one cup soft bread crumbs, one and one-half cups fresh whole corn, one pound ground meat, one and one-half teaspoons mustard, two teaspoons minced onion, two teaspoons melted fat. Stir together the egg, milk and crumbs. Add remaining ingredients and mix. Turn into greased ring mold and bake in moderately hot oven 45 minutes. Unmold, fill center with creamed carrots and surround with sliced tomatoes.

Rosettes
One of the most fascinating gadgets and tools that make household cooking a lot of fun is the rosette iron. The iron comes with two shapes—rosette, which is a fancy medallion, and a heart-shaped shell. You can fry a number of each at one time and have on hand the makings of many interesting desserts, for the shells retain their flavor and crispness indefinitely. Dusted lightly with confectioners' sugar, rosettes are a delightful tea cake. But for a really elegant dessert, try a rosette topped with a scoop of vanilla ice cream and a few luscious berries or crushed fresh peaches.

Following is the recipe: Rosettes—Two eggs, one and one-fourth cups irradiated evaporated milk, one cup flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one tablespoon sugar. Beat eggs slightly. Add milk. Sift flour, then measure. Resift with salt and sugar into the egg and milk mixture. Stir until batter is smooth. It should be about the consistency of heavy cream. Dip rosette iron in the hot fat to heat, then in the batter, and fry in hot fat (350 F.) until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper.

SOUTHPAW HURLS
COOPER OILERS
TO 4 TO 1 MARGIN

Dallas Williams, manager of the Cooper Oil team of Commercial Point, showed the Container Corporation softballers a new pitcher Wednesday evening, and went home with a 4-1 victory in the first game of the title series.

The new twirler, named Smith and a southpaw with a curve, had that strawboarders eating from his hand the greater part of the time. The game was the first he has pitched in the Tri-County loop.

Leonard Buskirk, reliable strawboard hurler, was touched at opportune times by the Commercial Point athletes.

Another game will be played this evening at 6 o'clock.

The first team to win three games will be determined the league champion. The Coopers won the first half competition and the Container Corporation defeated the Coca Colas in a playoff for the second half gonfalon.

REDS DROP DOZEN
OUT OF 13 GAMES
WITH PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 9.—(UP)—One good reason the Cincinnati Reds are mired in the National League cellar is supplied by the Pittsburgh Pirates.

The Reds have been "cousins" to the third place Pirates throughout the campaign. The clubs have played 13 contests thus far and Pittsburgh has been victorious in 12 of them.

Pittsburgh snared two more triumphs over the Reds here yesterday when they swept both ends of a double-header. The Pirates won the opener 7 to 6 in 10 innings and the nightcap 8 to 2.

About This And That In Many Sports

Six New Managers?
Grimm a Target
Grimes in a Hole
O'Neill to Go

Heavy traffic is forecast in major league managers during the winter. There may be as many as six changes.

The entire National League managerial setup is in danger of a radical shakeup. Bill Terry has signed a 5-year contract at $40,000 per season with the New York Giants, but in making the announcement President Horace Stoneham carefully avoided saying exactly what job Bill Terry will fill.

Terry wants to run the Giants from the front office like Ed Barrow does the Yankees. Stoneham thinks Terry is the finest field manager in baseball and wants him to direct the Giants from the bench. That's the bone of contention between Terry and Stoneham. Terry eventually will get his way, but it may take a year or so. He's a stubborn fellow.

When Terry steps upstairs Frankie Frisch, pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals, is likely to be the No. 1 candidate for the Giants' job. Frisch is known to be Terry's choice, and they say Frankie is quite willing to move from St. Louis to New York, his home town.

The snipers keep shooting at Charlie Grimm of the Cubs, but it happens that Grimm is in high favor with his boss, P. K. Wrigley. He doesn't have to worry as long as Wrigley likes him. Wrigley does not let anybody make up his mind for him.

But there's a delicate situation on the Cubs involving Gabby Hartnett, who's nearing the end of his playing days. He is definitely managerial timber, and is a cinch to get a major league job within the next two years. Will it be with the Cubs?

Cincinnati's disappointing showing may cost Chuck Dressen his job. Dressen is a good manager, but he just didn't have the material. The fans are shouting for a change although Warren Giles, general manager of the Reds, is in favor of keeping Dressen.

Burling Grimes, operating on a small salary and a 1-year contract, is on the fence at Brooklyn. Grimes hasn't had a real chance to prove whether he's a major league pilot. He hasn't had many major league players to work with and was handicapped by wholesale injuries.

The wolves always seem to be after Pie Traynor's scalp at Pittsburgh. The cry is, "Pie's too nice to run a ball club like the Pirates. They need to be ruled by an iron hand."

Jimmy Wilson's status at Philadelphia is uncertain. Wilson has proved he's a capable manager but second division clubs change pilots ever so often just to give the fans a new deal and to stop the howling. There are rumors that Wilson may land at Pittsburgh if Traynor doesn't stay.

Bill McKechnie is set at Boston if he wishes to stay there, but several clubs are eyeing him, principally Cleveland. It seems a foregone conclusion that Steve O'Neill will be ousted by the Indians at the close of the season. The Cleveland papers have been on him with hammer and tongs, and Alva Bradley already has started shopping around for another manager.

The only other American League change, likely, besides at Cleveland, seems to be with the Browns. Rogers Hornsby was fired during the season, and Jim Bottomley installed as temporary manager. It isn't likely that Bottomley will even want the job next season even if it's offered to him unless the new Browns' owner show signs of wanting to buy some pitchers. The Browns' pitching staff is the worst in baseball.

PROS GAIN 14-7
VERDICT IN GRID
GAME IN GOTHAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—(UP)—Professional football regained some of its lost prestige today by the 14-7 defeat handed the eastern collegiate all-stars by the New York Giants last night.

It was the fourth of a series of pre-season games between the pros and all-star collegiate teams, and the win evened the games won and lost at two-all.

The pros scored their first win Tuesday when the Chicago Bears beat an Oklahoma all-star college team, 25-0. Prior to that the Green Bay Packers had dropped a 6-0 decision to an all-star team in Chicago and the Bears had suffered a similar defeat in Dallas, Tex.

Before a crowd of 25,000 at the Polo grounds last night the Giants brought the pre-season series to a climax in a game that was closer than the score indicates.

CONTRACT BRIDGE

LURING A HOLDUP

MAKING a defender think that you do not possess an entry to the dummy, to run its suit, can cause him to execute a holdup play which allows you to make the doubtful trick required to fulfill your contract. Such deceptive maneuvers are always worth trying, and they usually are thwarted only if you have fine opponents who know how to signal each other with their own cards.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)
On this deal North and South arrived at a contract of 3-No Trumps. When West opened the club 4 against South's contract, on which East played the 10 and South the J, it was apparent to declarer that there were only eight sure tricks in the hand.

If West's opening lead was from a five-card suit, four losers in that suit and the spade A would set the contract. The declarer saw one possibility of fooling his opponents.

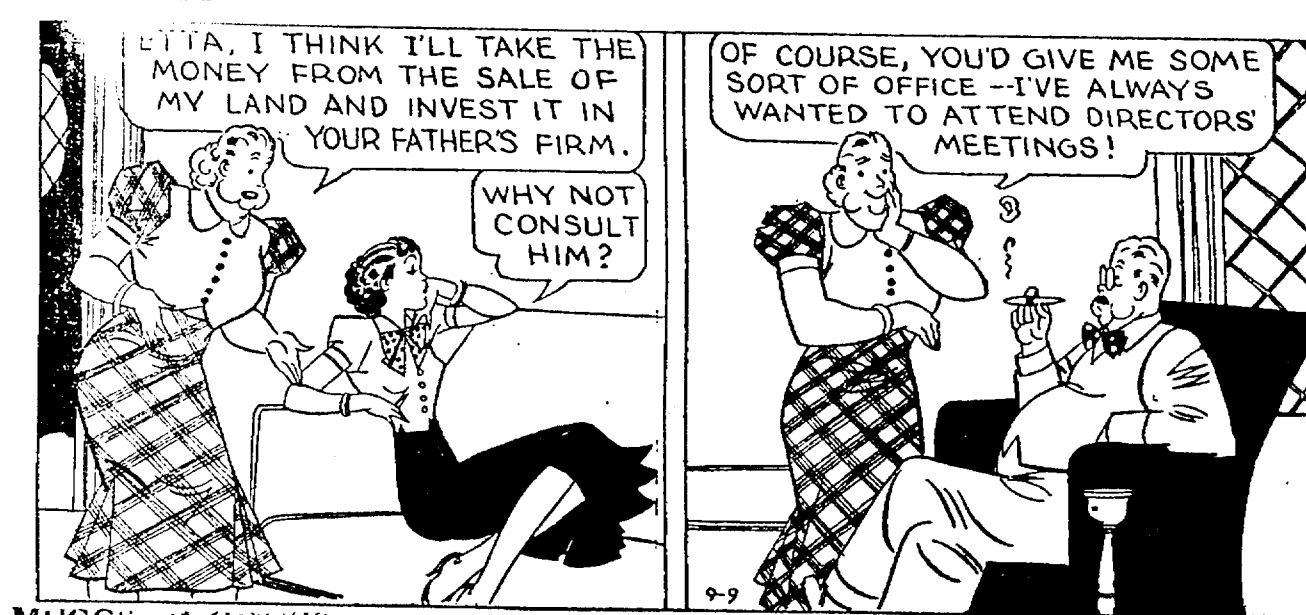

He cashed the diamonds A and K and then switched to the spade K, hoping to give the impression that he wished to use the spade Q as an entry to the remaining diamonds in dummy. The ruse worked, for East held off and South then ran his nine tricks.

When the two high diamonds were cashed West played his 9 first and followed with the 8, to indicate that he held only two, if that information was helpful to his partner. East, however, did not get the inference and by his hold-off allowed South to make an impossible contract.

MANFIELD MAN FACES CHARGES AFTER FATALITY

Six Cases Ignored As 50 Witnesses Go Before September Session

THREE CASES SECRET

Woman Named in Stolen Property Case

The county grand jury completed its session about 5:30 p. m. Wednesday reporting 10 indictments, three of them secret, ignoring six cases and passing one until a later session. Fifty witnesses were examined.

An indictment charging second degree manslaughter was returned against Robert Frye, 28, of Mansfield, resulting from the death of Miss Elsie Harvey, 18, of Wharton, W. Va., on June 27.

Miss Harvey died of injuries received when she was struck by Frye's auto on Route 23 just south of Circleville. Frye, at liberty under $1,000 bond, is alleged to have made a wide swing on a curve. Miss Harvey was walking along the highway, believed to have been hitch-hiking her way home.

Woman, 31, Named
Mrs. Eva Jackson, 31, of Whistler, was indicted on a charge of receiving stolen property. She is charged with receiving about $1,500 worth of property, including linens, lace, silverware, bed clothing and jewelry, taken from the home of Pete Wagner, near Chillicothe.

Two forgery indictments were returned. One was against Ronald Woods, 23, of Columbus, in connection with a $10 check given to Stewart & White, New Holland, July 29. The other was against Alvin Williams, 21, of Mt. Sterling, Route 3, involving a check for $14.15.

An indictment charging assault and battery was returned against W. C. McDaniels, Circleville. He is alleged to have struck Mrs. Maude Howard, July 15.

Clyde Congrove, Adelphi, was indicted on a statutory charge.

An indictment charging carrying a concealed weapon was returned against Melvin Johnson, 24, of Waverly. He is alleged to have carried a .32 calibre revolver on his person Sept. 4.

Cases ignored by the jury were Lehman Houston, assault and battery; Carl Gulick, reckless operation of a motor vehicle; Elsie Swank, assault, and Lucille Hunt, statutory charge.

Members of the grand jury reported all regulations governing the conduct of the county jail were observed.

Prosecutor George E. Gerhardt was in charge of the session.

John Roosevelt Linked With Boston Debutante

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 9.—(UP)—Romance blossomed anew today between tall, handsome John Roosevelt, the president's only unmarried son, and pretty Anne Lindsay Clark, blonde Boston debutante.

Miss Clark, who accompanied the Roosevelt family to Hyde Park after the wedding of Franklin, Jr., and Ethel Du Pont last June, returned to the Summer White House for a second visit last night, shortly after John, 21-year-old Harvard university student, returned home from a European vacation.

The entertainment which had been planned for the Boston society girl was delayed long enough to permit John to make a "full report" to his father on the Champagne-squirting incident in which the mayor of Cannes, France, was the victim of an American playboy.

Explains to Father
The mayor insisted that it was John who squirted champagne on him during a flower festival in Cannes last month, but young Roosevelt denied it and said that "it must have been two other fellows." John did his explaining in his father's study. What he said and what the president said, were, of course, a family secret.

The president left the young couple to amuse themselves, and turned his attention to two important government problems—counting the nation's unemployed and reorganizing the federal communications commission.

He had a conference at 10:30 a. m. (EST) with John Biggers, Toledo, O., to discuss the unemployment census authorized by congress. He had a luncheon engagement at 1 p. m. with Frank R. McNinch, recently named chairman of the F. C. C.

Biggers is president of the Liberty-Owens-Ford Glass Co. It was believed Mr. Roosevelt may have decided to appoint him director of the census.

McNinch is serving the administration in a double capacity, re-

COUNTY YOUTHS TO DRIVE TEAMS AT MARION FAIR

Dale Vincent, 17, and George Wilson, 14, New Holland and Commercial Point youths respectively, will play important roles in the Marion county Agricultural society fair Wednesday, Sept. 15, when junior horse-pulling contests are conducted for boys and girls.

Vincent and Wilson will vie with scores of other youths from many parts of Ohio.

Vincent will handle a team of his father's horses, while Wilson will drive C. M. Hinton's fine team. Both teams have been doing well in county fair competition in recent weeks.

The youngest entry to be received by the Marion association is from Roger Emery, 8, of West Alexandria.

There will be eliminations in the afternoon and finals at night.

The pulling test is sponsored by the Horse-Pulling Association of Ohio.

YOUTHS OF OHIO TO RE-ENROLL IN ROSTER OF C. C. C.

Former C. C. C. enrollees in this community may re-enroll for another term at the end of six months from their date of discharge instead of one year as heretofore, it is announced by De los H. Marcy, director of Pickaway County relief administration.

Over the state, this new ruling means that about 500 more former enrollees will be come eligible for re-enrollment. A proportionate number is expected to re-enroll from this community.

An opportunity to learn a trade or to study high school or college courses, to support himself and aid his family, to enjoy wide recreational programs is offered the C. C. C. enrollee. Enrollees must be between 17 and 23 years old inclusive, must be unemployed and in need of employment, must be citizens, must be physically and mentally fit.

Young men considering enrolling or re-enrolling should register at once with their county selecting agent.

HILLSBORO MOVES TO REDUCE SMOKE MENACE IN CITY

HILLSBORO, Ohio, Sept. 9.—Council has empowered Clerk James McDermott, Jr., to employ an engineer to investigate the smoke and soot nuisance in the northwest section of Hillsboro near the Carnation Milk Company plant here, and suggest a remedy.

Council also voted to widen Court street approximately six feet and to resurface Short street. It is expected that the work will be finished in time for the Hillsboro fall festival which begins Sept. 29.

HOUSE PAINTER ERRS

KLAMATH FALLS, Ore. (UP)—When Louis G. Hoagland drove up in front of his home, he had to look twice to see if he was wrong. In his absence, a house painter had painted the home—a big mistake—because the house he had been commissioned to do was in a different neighborhood.
